

Anxiety in Children and Selective Mutism

Thursday 3rd October, 9am – 12:15pm, Ashmount School, Loughborough

Who should attend?

This half day course is aimed at new SENCo's, Newly Qualified Teachers and Teachers and Teaching Assistants that have an SEN pupil in their class for the first time.

What will be covered?

This is an opportunity for educational practitioners to take a step back from the busyness of the classroom and consider the massive barriers to learning created by anxiety-driven conditions including selective mutism.

Pathological Demand Avoidance (PDA) and Oppositional Defiant Disorder (ODD)

Thursday 3rd October, 1:15pm – 4pm, Ashmount School, Loughborough

Who should attend?

This half day course is aimed at new SENCo's, Newly Qualified Teachers and Teachers and Teaching Assistants that have an SEN pupil in their class for the first time.

Objectives

We will look at disorders which manifest in a similar way but stem from different origins, such as ODD, considering the similarities and differences involved.

We will explore ways in which we can modify our own practice in order to maximise participation and positive experiences for these marginalised pupils.

About the trainer

Abi Steady is Deputy Headteacher and Lead ITT and NQT mentor at Ashmount School. Throughout her 18 years working within education, Abi has gained a wealth of experience across a variety of mainstream and specialist settings.

Abi is an experienced educational trainer and writes and delivers a wide range of training packages related to behaviour and pervasive developmental disorders. Abi is passionate about implementing effective CPD and support packages to enable teachers to raise expectations for all pupils with additional needs.

Ways to book

Click here to book a place

1 of the Sessions
£60 (Members) £85 (Non members)

Full Day (Both sessions)
£95 (Members) £120 (non-members)