

The Art of Being a Brilliant NQT

Monday 25 September & Monday 27 November 2017, 9am – 2:45pm
Ashmount School

Inspire NQTs to deliver their brilliant best in that crucial but challenging first year of teaching; support their development as outstanding teachers of the future. Prepare for good-humoured, practical approaches and ideas offering a different perspective on what you've heard at University and on teaching practice. Embrace strategies and an attitude that really works to engage and motivate learners to achieve their best every day in every lesson.

Who should attend?

Primary and secondary teachers in their first year of teaching who want to be brilliant.

Course content

- The big picture of the teacher's role: making an impact; what makes a difference?
- What does 'Outstanding' look like?
- Being the best teacher you can be: planning, differentiation, engagement, creativity, attitude
- Organising and managing yourself, your resources and workload, your classroom and other adults supporting learning
- Marking and assessment
- Behaviour management: positivity as an approach; tricks of the trade and the challenging class/learner
- Pastoral care and parents
- Dealing with observations
- Teaching as an amazing long-term career

Cost for both days

£230 (non-members)

Objectives

Delegates will:

- Gain a greater insight into what it takes to be a truly fantastic teacher
- Leave with a huge range of practical ideas, approaches and strategies to engage and inspire learners
- Develop confidence and resilience in themselves as inspirational teachers
- Understand the practical measures they can take to build career success.

About the course leaders

Former teachers and school leaders, Gary Toward and Chris Henley always receive rave reviews from delegates and head teachers alike:

"Delivered with great humour and insight. I feel so much more confident and in control."

"Lots of practical ideas for me to implement in my classroom tomorrow."

"I feel empowered and prepared. Bolshy kids, difficult parents, piles of marking ... bring it on!"
