

Outstanding Objective Led Planning in the Early Years

Tuesday 9th April 2019, 9am - 3pm, Ashmount School, Loughborough

Objective led planning is currently a popular area of EYFS development, being a thoroughly child centred approach at the heart of the early years curriculum. However, the practicalities of establishing and maintaining high quality, objective led planning, with the right balance of teaching and play based learning, is demanding and not without challenges.

Who should attend?

All EYFS practitioners, particularly NQTs and those new to the EYFS.

Delegates will:

- Acquire depth of understanding in the area of objective led planning; including use of baseline information and strategic long term thinking.
- Practise mid- term planning, with child centred learning (rather than topic driven objectives) as a clear focus.
- Review different types of play regarding relevance, interest and learning; for higher levels of engagement, concentration, creativity and critical thinking.
- Consider and develop ideas for differentiation and challenge within a curriculum which is primarily child initiated
- Evaluate own planning and practice, identifying next steps towards further improvement

Why choose this EYFS course?

- Heaps of inspirational ideas and support to get started on objective led planning in your school
- Encouragingly realistic top tips for planning and provision
- Practical solutions to creating challenge, creativity and critical thinking in a curriculum led by the children.
- Productive and practical trouble shooting with personal support
- Fun, motivational and thought provoking delivery
