

Teaching about religions: A practical guide

Tuesday 8th October, 9am – 3pm, Ashmount School, Loughborough

We are excited to offer the second of a number of courses focusing on Religious Education.

This course is being led by Wendy Harrison, an independent education consultant.

About this course

An introduction to teaching about Christianity, Hinduism and Islam.

This includes a basic introduction to the main beliefs of each religion and guidance about how to make teaching engaging and meaningful to pupils.

This day is a great opportunity to further develop your RE subject knowledge as well as gain ideas for teaching RE successfully.

Who should attend?

This course is suitable for classroom teachers who feel they would like to develop their own RE subject knowledge in order to feel more confident when teaching RE.

Whilst it's very suitable for non-specialists, the day would also be beneficial to more experienced classroom teachers who are interested in refreshing their approaches to teaching RE.

£95 (members)
£120 (non-members)

About the trainer

Wendy Harrison works as an independent consultant offering bespoke support and training for primary and secondary schools on a range of issues, e.g. curriculum review and development, preparation for Ofsted, religious education, SMSC and British values.

She works part-time as the RE Adviser for two local authorities, supporting primary and secondary schools in areas such as planning, assessment and teaching about religions and world-views.

Click here to book a place

Dates for your diary

We have also arranged for Wendy to run the following CPD for us:

How to lead and manage RE in your school:
Guidance for co-ordinators

Tuesday 18th June, 9am – 3pm

You can book on to this course by clicking here.